

1987 CURRENTS Index

Authors

- Allison, Dale G., "The News Release Lives: For some purposes and some institutions, the news release has a right to life" (media relations). May 1987, p. 50.
- Atteberry, Mary Wade, "Target Your Media Marketing: Why Wittenberg's Don Perkins stays on the phone and on the road" (media relations, national media). February 1987, p. 40.
- Barron, Lewis W., "Advise and Invest: Creating an investment policy for the institutionally related foundation" (institutionally related foundations). September 1987, p. 44.
- Baxter, Michael J., and Miller, Kay, "Keeping Your Cool: Here's how to stay in control under the hot lights" (crisis planning, media relations). November/December 1987, p. 22.
- Bennett, Richard L., "Ten Management Maxims: Guidelines to help you get more from your development dollar" (management: fund raising, staffing, cost of fund raising). April 1987, p. 28.
- Blackmore, Deborah H., and Foster, John S., "The Secret Is Out: Show your development colleagues how planned giving can help their programs—and the institution" (planned giving, management training). June 1987, p. 22.
- Bliwise, Robert J., "Making A Statement: Why you should—or shouldn't—write statements of editorial mission, goals, and policy" (editorial policy). March 1987, p. 16.
- Bonnett, Susan, "Focus on Your Audience: How focus group research can help you zero in on what prospective students and donors really think" (market research, evaluation). May 1987, p. 32.
- Borton, Georgina L.; Duronio, Margaret A.; and Loessin, Bruce A., "Names and Numbers: A survey shows how major universities go about prospect research" (prospect research). October 1987, p. 34.
- Burdette, Melinda J., "Battling the Bottle-necks: The five worst enemies of your long-range plan" (planning). April 1987, p. 24.
- Burdette, Melinda J., "The Best Defense: A well-written reply to a nasty letter can win over your opponent to your team" (constituent relations). March 1987, p. 42.
- Burdette, Melinda J., "The Mating Dance: How to court—and keep—the perfect fund raiser" (staffing, development officers). October 1987, p. 12.
- Carman, Bernard R., "Beyond Control: The notion of editorial independence is a snare and a delusion, in the institutional press and elsewhere" (editorial independence). March 1987, p. 26.
- Carter, Lindy Keane, "Communicating in a Crisis: The good news is that candor, credibility, and cool heads can keep the bad news from getting worse" (crisis planning, media relations). November/December 1987, p. 14.
- Carter, Lindy Keane, and Janes, Heidi M., "The Education Continues: Bring faculty into every part of your alumni program" (faculty involvement). September 1987, p. 20.
- Carter, Lindy Keane, "We're Looking Forward to It: A peek at the next decade in alumni administration" (planning, future trends). April 1987, p. 14.
- Chamberlain, Philip C., "A Long, Hard Look: An intensive self-study of your institution can reveal whether you're giving constituents what they want and need" (management: institutional relations). April 1987, p. 54.
- Channell, Maggi, and Stout, Don E., "Recruit with Research: Turn your admissions data into publications with pull" (recruitment communications, direct mail, market research). May 1987, p. 28.
- Cialdini, Robert B., "What Leads to Yes: Applying the psychology of influence to fund raising, alumni relations, and PR" (motivation, donor motivation, persuasion). January 1987, p. 48.
- Ciervo, Arthur V., "Tinkerer, Trainer, Molder, Spy" (mentors, career development). June 1987, p. 52.
- Ciervo, Arthur V., "Truth or Consequences: When the truth hurts, PR people face a painful ethical dilemma" (ethics, media relations). January 1987, p. 20.
- Clotfelter, Susan C., "The Alumni Credit Card: More and more institutions are urging graduates not to leave campus without it" (credit cards). February 1987, p. 54.
- Clotfelter, Susan C., "Independence: For alumni associations, it can be a cause for celebration—or a source of fireworks" (independent alumni associations). October 1987, p. 28.
- Coll, Jr., Edward G., "Time for a Thaw: British campuses and corporations had better warm up to one another" (corporate support). June 1987, p. 80.
- Dean, Laura Hansen, "When—and How—to Talk to Donors about the AMT" (planned giving, tax policy). June 1987, p. 12.
- Donahue, James A., "Speaking of Ethics: To resolve ethical dilemmas, you must learn to ask the right questions at the right time" (ethics). January 1987, p. 88.
- Dunlop, David R., "The Ultimate Gift: The biggest gifts of all take a special kind of fund raising" (major gifts, major donors, donor cultivation). May 1987, p. 8.
- Duronio, Margaret A.; Borton, Georgina L.; and Loessin, Bruce A., "Names and Numbers: A survey shows how major universities go about prospect research" (prospect research). October 1987, p. 34.
- Edwards, Donald B., "We Have a Lot in Common: When you convince constituents their future is linked to yours, you get partners who produce" (capital campaigns, corporate support, state relations). February 1987, p. 60.
- Erickson, Bruce, "The Revolution's on Your Desk: Desktop systems bring publications from cold type to no type" (desktop publishing, publications production, computers/word processors). February 1987, p. 14.
- Flagg, Thomas M., "The Best Medicine: Faculty authors can pump new life into your campus periodical" (faculty involvement). September 1987, p. 28.
- Foster, John S., and Blackmore, Deborah H., "The Secret Is Out: Show your development colleagues how planned giving can help their programs—and the institution" (planned giving, management training). June 1987, p. 22.
- Fyten, David, "Paradise Lost: The soul of a magazine is its content—and all too many are losing theirs" (content, design). July/August 1987, p. 72.
- Gardner, David P., "Reducing Our Nation's Risk: Education is worth the investment" (educational issues). May 1987, p. 72.
- Geddie, Douglas J., "Don't Go Changing: Constituents may love you just the way you are" (graphic identity, institutional image). June 1987, p. 34.
- Goldman, Robin, "Get the Word Out: The University of Wisconsin-Madison lets the news speak for itself" (media relations, national media). February 1987, p. 30.
- Goldman, Robin, "Matters of State: Missouri's colleges and universities campaign together for funds, students—and cooperation" (government relations support, media relations, public/private relationships). April 1987, p. 6.
- Goldman, Robin, "The Present-minded Professor: Ralph Ketcham brings yesterday's thought to today's thinkers" (professor of the year). November/December 1987, p. 58.
- Goldman, Robin, "Take the Initiative: Carnegie Mellon's proactive program makes national coverage its top priority" (media relations, national media). February 1987, p. 46.
- Hale, Don, "Kill That Release: Must news releases deserve—and usually get—an unmerciful death" (media relations). May 1987, p. 48.
- Heinlen, Daniel L., "Alumni Administration 101: For novices and veterans, an overview of the management basics every alumni director needs" (management: alumni administration). July/August 1987, p. 52.
- Henderson, Emily Pfizenmaier, "Proactive Prospecting: A modest proposal for a new approach to the role of the prospect research specialist" (prospect research). March 1987, p. 28.
- Hodgkinson, Harold L., "Courage to Change: Facing our demographic destiny" (future trends, educational issues). July/August 1987, p. 8.
- Ingersoll, Ronald J., "Playing the Numbers: The role of search in admissions" (recruitment communications, direct mail). May 1987, p. 23.
- Janes, Heidi M., and Carter, Lindy K., "The Education Continues: Bring faculty into every part of your alumni program" (faculty involvement). September 1987, p. 20.
- Keith, Linda, "A Fresh Bill of Fare: Editors share their best solutions for beating the what-to-fix-for-deadline blues" (content). June 1987, p. 42.
- King, Roland, "Painting the Wrong Picture:

- To recruit students and raise money, some institutions are presenting increasingly distorted pictures of themselves" (ethics). January 1987, p. 26.
- Lagle, Linda J., "Go to the Head of the Class: Institutional relations officers can learn a lot from their professors" (internal communication). September 1987, p. 24.
- Langer, Gayle M., "Future Perfect: How to set up a long-range plan for your alumni association" (planning). April 1987, p. 18.
- Lawson, Charles E., "Leading by Example: Philanthropy needs fund raisers who believe in philanthropy" (philanthropy). April 1987, p. 72.
- Ledger, Marshall, "Who's in Charge Here? Getting the authority you need to edit an effective alumni periodical" (editorial independence, content). March 1987, p. 10.
- Leed, Jean, "Beyond the Ask: Ten other ways to involve faculty in fund raising" (faculty involvement). September 1987, p. 14.
- LeRoux, Paul, "The Winning Presentation: How to get your ideas across to the people who count the most" (speech writing/making). September 1987, p. 38.
- Loessin, Bruce A.; Borton, Georgina L.; and Duronio, Margaret A., "Names and Numbers: A survey shows how major universities go about prospect research" (prospect research). October 1987, p. 34.
- Marks, Linda, "Improving Our Prospects: How Stanford used a massive screening program to uncover new major gift potential" (prospect research, major donors). November/December 1987, p. 38.
- Martin, Elizabeth M., "Modern Mentors: Instead of searching for one long-term counselor, find several throughout your career" (mentors, career development). June 1987, p. 46.
- Matika, Joanne L., "Mark Your Calendar: A logo's coming-out party" (graphic identity, institutional image). July/August 1987, p. 21.
- McDonald, William, "Another (Yawn) Revolution: Desktop systems might take publishing right out of the experts' hands" (desktop publishing, publications production, computers/word processors). February 1987, p. 18.
- McNamee, Mike, "Fund Raising After Tax Reform: Now that the new law's in place, fund raisers need more planned gifts, more expertise, and better communications with donors" (tax policy, planned giving). January 1987, p. 44.
- McNamee, Mike, "The Liability Loophole: As premiums rise and coverage drops, alumni associations find fault with insurance policies" (insurance). May 1987, p. 42.
- Michelsen, Jan, "But Is It Worth It? Consultants weigh the pros and cons of seeking national media coverage" (national media). February 1987, p. 52.
- Miller, Kay, and Baxter, Michael J., "Keeping Your Cool: Here's how to stay in control under the hot lights" (crisis planning, media relations). November/December 1987, p. 22.
- Moerschbaecher, Lynda, "The New Planned Giving Landscape: The changing tax environment offers fund-raising opportunities" (planned giving, tax policy). June 1987, p. 8.
- Moore, H. Martin, "A Model of Cooperation: A survey of presidents and chief advancement officers shows four types of relationships" (presidents, research, president's role in fund raising, development officers). July/August 1987, p. 40.
- Moran, Cynthia K., "A Proper Introduction: Introduce your institution with a search piece that gets results" (recruitment communications, direct mail). May 1987, p. 18.
- Moultrie, Anne Johnson, "Get Their Attention: Recruitment strategies that win minority students" (minority students). April 1987, p. 44.
- Myers, Judy, "Balance Without Bias: Before your institution can decide how to recruit minorities, it must know why it wants them" (minority students). April 1987, p. 34.
- Myers, Judy, "Come into My Parlor: If a vendor is trying to lure you into a sweet deal, look for signs of a sticky situation" (ethics). January 1987, p. 32.
- Newman, Frank, "Taking Charge of Ourselves: Is higher education willing to lead the reform of higher education?" (educational issues). February 1987, p. 6.
- Nichols, Scott G., "Turnover's Fair Play: Handled well, job changing can keep your office competitive" (turnover). October 1987, p. 80.
- Nilsen, Kim Robert, "Different League, Same Game: How an independent school attracts national media attention" (media relations, national media). February 1987, p. 42.
- Norman, Helen Watkins, "Planning For Change: Sailing smoothly through name changes, mergers, and other campus changes" (change). June 1987, p. 32.
- Norris, Mike, "Share and Share Alike: Stretch your staff and budget by recycling what you write" (productivity, writing). November/December 1987, p. 55.
- O'Connell, Brian, "Boosting the Boosters: How the 'Give Five' campaign can help your institution" (philanthropy, volunteers). September 1987, p. 72.
- Oliva, L. Jay, "Cleaning Up College Sports: It's up to college leaders to put sports in their proper place" (educational issues, ethics). March 1987, p. 72.
- Pugel, Mary E., "Keep Those Cards and Letter Going: Give donors what they expect and deserve—old-fashioned thank-you letters" (stewardship). March 1987, p. 38.
- Quehl, Gary H., "A Banner Year: Looking back on his first year as president, Gary Quehl says CASE is running fast, running hard, and running well" (CASE programs and activities). November/December 1987, p. 8.
- Rainbolt, William, "Gifts That Can't Be Matched: Following recent abuse, corporations and campuses are striving to avoid further problems" (ethics, matching gifts). January 1987, p. 12.
- Rakestraw, Kathleen, "Discipline Without Pain: Dealing with that difficult employee" (staff management). July/August 1987, p. 28.
- Raley, Nancy, "Know the Media: A Texas medical school's PR team proves that it helps to know what makes the media tick" (media relations, national media). February 1987, p. 36.
- Rochlin, Jay, "Plant the Entrepreneurial Spirit: Innovative programs to help your alumni office's services—and maybe its revenues—flourish" (alumni programs, alumni continuing education, entrepreneurial programs). March 1987, p. 46.
- Rytter, Robert J., "Of Logos and Letterheads: How to communicate your campus's personality at a glance" (graphic identity, institutional image). July/August 1987, p. 18.
- Sapp, Ronald A., "Gifts That Keep on Giving: Show your prospects how planned giving can help them, too" (planned giving, marketing, donor cultivation). June 1987, p. 16.
- Sevier, Robert, "How Students Choose a College: Prestige, parents, and large color photos may be more influential than you think" (undergraduates). November/December 1987, p. 46.
- Shea, John, "When Borrowing Becomes Burglary: Recognizing—and fighting—plagiarism" (ethics). January 1987, p. 38.
- Showalter, Shirley Hershey, "The Faculty Strategy: Campus teamwork can make your marketing plan a winner" (faculty involvement, marketing). September 1987, p. 34.
- Sjo, Gail R., "Take My Boss—Please! How to manage a troublesome manager" (staff management). July/August 1987, p. 32.
- Stout, Don F., and Channell, Maggi, "Recruit with Research: Turn your admissions data into publications with pull" (recruitment communications, direct mail, market research). May 1987, p. 28.
- Stratton, Maril R., "Weeding Out Bias: How to spot—and eliminate—insensitive language" (sexism: how to avoid, racism: how to avoid). July/August 1987, p. 46.
- Stuart, Victoria, "Learning the Legalities: Prepare yourself and your lawyers to handle campus crises" (crisis planning, legal issues). November/December 1987, p. 26.
- Swift III, J. Gilbert, "Cooperate to Celebrate: A great reunion means working with—not dictating to—alumni volunteers" (reunions, volunteers: alumni administration). November/December 1987, p. 32.
- Taylor, Karla, "Tell the Story Straight: By covering rather than covering up, Stanford gets the national media to come to it" (media relations, national media). February 1987, p. 24.
- Thomas, Edward G., "Flight Records: A CURRENTS study confirms advancement's reputation for high turnover" (staffing, turnover, development officers). October 1987, p. 6.
- Trachtenberg, Stephen Joel, "Life at the Top: It's a heap of trouble" (presidents). February 1987, p. 80.
- Trachtman, Leon E., "Where Advancement Fails: A dean tells why faculty give advancement an F—and how you can improve your grade" (advancement and education). September 1987, p. 10.
- Vitale, Thomas, "Let's Get Acquainted: These student recruitment brochures make a good first impression" (recruitment communications, direct mail). May 1987, p. 14.
- Volkman, M. Fredric, "Whetting Student Appetites: A baker's dozen tips for effective search mailings" (recruitment communications, direct mail). May 1987, p. 26.
- Willmer, Wesley K., "Preventing the No: How to spot—and work with—a donor's mental anchors, rubber bands, boomerangs, and caterpillars" (donor motivation, donor solicitation). January 1987, p. 52.
- Yankelovich, Daniel, "Bridging the Gap: If the public loves us, why is getting public support so hard?" (public understanding, educational issues). October 1987, p. 24.
- Yoe, Mary Ruth, "Bringing Philosophy to Life: In the Professor of the Year's school of thought, philosophy and practicality do mix" (professor of the year). January 1987, p. 56.

Alumni Administration

- "Alumni Administration 101: For novices and veterans, an overview of the management basics every alumni director needs" (management: alumni administration). Daniel L. Heinlen, July/August 1987, p. 52.
- "The Alumni Credit Card: More and more institutions are urging graduates not to leave campus without it" (credit cards). Susan C. Clotfelter, February 1987, p. 54.
- "Battling the Bottlenecks: The five worst enemies of your long-range plan" (planning). Melinda J. Burdette, April 1987, p. 24.
- "Come into My Parlor: If a vendor is trying to lure you into a sweet deal, look for signs of a sticky situation" (ethics). Judy Myers, January 1987, p. 32.
- "Cooperate to Celebrate: A great reunion means working with—not dictating to—alumni volunteers" (reunions, volunteers: alumni administration). J. Gilbert Swift III,

November/December 1987, p. 32.

"The Education Continues: Bring faculty into every part of your alumni program" (faculty involvement). Heidi M. Janes and Lindy Keane Carter, September 1987, p. 20.

"Future Perfect: How to set up a long-range plan for your alumni association" (planning). Gayle M. Langer, April 1987, p. 18.

"Independence: For alumni associations, it can be a cause for celebration—or a source of fireworks" (independent alumni associations). Susan C. Clotfelter, October 1987, p. 28.

"The Liability Loophole: As premiums rise and coverage drops, alumni associations find fault with insurance policies" (insurance). Mike McNamee, May 1987, p. 42.

"Plant the Entrepreneurial Spirit: Innovative programs to help your alumni office's services—and maybe its revenues—flourish" (alumni programs, alumni continuing education). Jay Rochlin, March 1987, p. 46.

"We're Looking Forward to It: A peek at the next decade in alumni administration" (planning, future trends). Lindy Keane Carter, April 1987, p. 14.

Fund Raising

"Advise and Invest: Creating an investment policy for the institutionally related foundation" (institutionally related foundations). Lewis W. Barron, September 1987, p. 44.

"Beyond the Ask: Ten other ways to involve faculty in fund raising" (faculty involvement). Jean Leed, September 1987, p. 14.

"Boosting the Boosters: How the 'Give Five' campaign can help your institution" (philanthropy, volunteers). Brian O'Connell, September 1987, p. 72.

"Focus on Your Audience: How focus group research can help you zero in on what prospective students and donors really think" (market research, evaluation). Susan Bonnett, May 1987, p. 32.

"Fund Raising After Tax Reform: Now that the new law's in place, fund raisers need more planned gifts, more expertise, and better communications with donors" (tax policy, planned giving). Mike McNamee, January 1987, p. 44.

"Gifts That Can't Be Matched: Following recent abuse, corporations and campuses are striving to avoid further problems" (ethics, matching gifts). William Rainbolt, January 1987, p. 12.

"Gifts That Keep on Giving: Show your prospects how planned giving can help them, too" (planned giving, marketing). Ronald A. Sapp, June 1987, p. 16.

"Improving Our Prospects: How Stanford used a massive screening program to uncover new major gift potential" (prospect research, major donors). Linda Marks, November/December 1987, p. 38.

"Keep Those Cards and Letters Going: Give donors what they expect and deserve—old-fashioned thank-you letters" (stewardship). Mary E. Pugel, March 1987, p. 38.

"Leading by Example: Philanthropy needs fund raisers who believe in philanthropy" (philanthropy). Charles E. Lawson, April 1987, p. 72.

"The Mating Dance: How to court—and keep—the perfect fund raiser" (staffing, development officers). Melinda J. Burdette, October 1987, p. 12.

"A Model of Cooperation: A survey of presidents and chief advancement officers shows four types of relationships" (presidents, research, president's role in fund raising, development officers). H. Martin Moore, July/August 1987, p. 40.

"Names and Numbers: A survey shows how major universities go about prospect research" (prospect research). Georgina L. Borton, Margaret A. Duronio, and Bruce A. Loessin, October 1987, p. 34.

"The New Planned Giving Landscape: The changing tax environment offers fund-raising opportunities" (planned giving, tax policy). Lynda Moerschbaecher, June 1987, p. 8.

"Preventing the No: How to spot—and work with—a donor's mental anchors, rubber bands, boomerangs, and caterpillars" (donor motivation, donor solicitation). Wesley K. Willmer, January 1987, p. 52.

"Proactive Prospecting: A modest proposal for a new approach to the role of the prospect research specialist" (prospect research). Emily Pfizenmaier Henderson, March 1987, p. 28.

"The Secret Is Out: Show your development colleagues how planned giving can help their programs—and the institution" (planned giving, training). Deborah H. Blackmore and John S. Foster, June 1987, p. 22.

"Ten Management Maxims: Guidelines to help you get more from your development dollar" (management: fund raising, staffing). Richard L. Bennett, April 1987, p. 28.

"Time for a Thaw: British campuses and corporations had better warm up to one another" (corporate support). Edward G. Coll, Jr., June 1987, p. 80.

"The Ultimate Gift: The biggest gifts of all take a special kind of fund raising" (major gifts, major donors). David R. Dunlop, May 1987, p. 8.

"We Have a Lot in Common: When you convince constituents their future is linked to yours, you get partners who produce" (capital campaigns, corporate support, state relations). Donald B. Edwards, February 1987, p. 60.

"What Leads to Yes: Applying the psychology of influence to fund raising, alumni relations, and PR" (motivation). Robert B. Cialdini, January 1987, p. 48.

"When—and How—to Talk to Donors about the AMT" (planned giving, tax policy). Laura Hansen Dean, June 1987, p. 12.

General

"A Banner Year": Looking back on his first year as president, Gary Quehl says CASE is running fast, running hard, and running well" (CASE programs and activities). Gary H. Quehl, November/December 1987, p. 8.

"Bridging the Gap: If the public loves us,

A Challenge in Institutional Advancement . . .

Advancing the mission of colleges and universities is the challenge of the 80's. A master's degree program in higher education with an emphasis in Institutional Advancement at Peabody College of Vanderbilt University will prepare you to meet this challenge.

Uniting higher education theory with practical application, the program combines a professional seminar and an internship in alumni and development with graduate courses in management, marketing, computers, and fund raising.

Whether you attend full-time or part-time, you can now master the knowledge and skills needed for a career on the university campus.

Scholarships are available.

For more information, contact:

Office of Admissions
Peabody College of
Vanderbilt University
Nashville, Tennessee 37203
(615) 322-8410

Get on the M-O-O-V-E with the CASE Placement Letter

Thinking of advancing your career? Looking to fill an advancement position in your office? The CASE Placement Letter:

- publishes professional-level vacancies in institutional advancement, and
- runs listings (for a fee) from job-seekers in search of the perfect advancement opening.

Listings are free to CASE member institutions. Text should be no longer than 80 words, excluding the return address.

Copy for the Placement Letter is due by the 20th of each month. The Placement Letter does not appear in January or September.

Write to Bob Vitell at CASE, or call (202) 328-5942.

Castle Hill Associates

- Fund Raising Counsel
- Long Range Planning
- Trustee Consultation

Specializing in Educational Institutions

Joseph C. Donnelly Jr.
P.O. Box 592
Dover, MA 02030
(617) 785-2238

- why is getting public support so hard?" (public understanding, educational issues). Daniel Yankelovich, October 1987, p. 24.
- "Bringing Philosophy to Life: In the Professor of the Year's school of thought, philosophy and practicality do mix" (professor of the year). Mary Ruth Yoe, January 1987, p. 56.
- "Cleaning Up College Sports: It's up to college leaders to put sports in their proper place" (educational issues, ethics). L. Jay Oliva, March 1987, p. 72.
- "Courage to Change: Facing our demographic destiny" (future trends, educational issues). Harold L. Hodgkinson, July/August 1987, p. 8.
- "Matters of State: Missouri's colleges and universities campaign together for funds, students—and cooperation" (government relations support, media relations, public/private relationships). Robin Goldman, April 1987, p. 6.
- "The Present-minded Professor: Ralph Ketcham brings yesterday's thought to today's thinkers" (professor of the year). Robin Goldman, November/December 1987, p. 58.
- "Recognition 1987" (recognition program). October 1987, p. 40.
- "Reducing Our Nation's Risk: Education is worth the investment" (educational issues). David P. Gardner, May 1987, p. 72.
- "Taking Charge of Ourselves: Is higher education willing to lead the reform of higher education?" (educational issues). Frank Newman, February 1987, p. 6.
- "Where Advancement Fails: A dean tells why faculty give advancement an F—and how you can improve your grade" (advancement and education). Leon E. Trachtman, September 1987, p. 10.

Reviews

- Agenda for Research on Fund Raising*, Robert F. Carbone, January 1987, p. 61.
- Dimensions of the Independent Sector: A Statistical Profile*, second edition, Virginia A. Hodgkinson and Murray S. Weitzman, May 1987, p. 55.

The Sheridan Group

Committed to low cost, high quality fund raising programs that work.

A full range of services include: Periodic consulting, planning studies, capital campaigns and publications.

For information please contact:

Nelson Cover, Jr.
President
The Sheridan Group
2715 South Inge St.
Arlington, VA 22202
703/548-3360

- Fund Raising and Public Relations: A Critical Guide to Literature and Resources*, Paul Dannelley, January 1987, p. 61.
- Fund Raising: The Guide to Raising Money from Private Sources*, Thomas E. Broce, May 1987, p. 54.
- Great Good Fortune: How Harvard Makes Its Money*, Carl A. Vigeland, May 1987, p. 54.
- Information and Behavior: Systems of Influence*, Richard A. Winett, March 1987, p. 55.
- Key Resources on Institutional Advancement*, A. Westley Rowland, March 1987, p. 55.
- Marketing Without Advertising*, Michael Phillips and Salli Rasberry, September 1987, p. 49.
- Philanthropy, Voluntary Action, and the Public Good: 1986 Spring Research Forum Working Papers*, compiled by Virginia A. Hodgkinson, January 1987, p. 61.
- Research in Progress: 1984-85, A National Compilation of Research Projects on Philanthropy, Voluntary Action, and Not-for-Profit Activity*, Independent Sector, January 1987, p. 61.
- Scientists and Journalists: Reporting Science As News*, edited by Sharon M. Friedman, Sharon Dunwoody, and Carol L. Rogers, March 1987, p. 56.
- Strategic Marketing for Educational Institutions*, Philip Kotler and Karen F.A. Fox, September 1987, p. 49.
- 34 Distinguished Organizational Publications: 1986*, Edmund C. Arnold, March 1987, p. 55.
- When Colleges Lobby States: The Higher Education/State Government Connection*, edited by Leonard E. Goodall, September 1987, p. 50.

Government Relations

- "Fund Raising After Tax Reform: Now that the new law's in place, fund raisers need more planned gifts, more expertise, and better communications with donors" (tax policy, planned giving). Mike McNamee, January 1987, p. 44.

- "Matters of State: Missouri's colleges and universities campaign together for funds, students—and cooperation" (government relations support, media relations, public/private relationships). Robin Goldman, April 1987, p. 6.
- "We Have a Lot in Common: When you convince constituents their future is linked to yours, you get partners who produce" (capital campaigns, corporate support, state relations). Donald B. Edwards, February 1987, p. 60.

Institutional Relations

- "The Best Defense: A well-written reply to a nasty letter can win over your opponent to your team" (constituent relations). Melinda J. Burdette, March 1987, p. 42.
- "Bridging the Gap: If the public loves us, why is getting public support so hard?" (public understanding, educational issues). Daniel Yankelovich, October 1987, p. 24.
- "But Is It Worth It? Consultants weigh the pros and cons of seeking national media coverage" (national media). Jan Michelsen, February 1987, p. 52.
- "Communicating in a Crisis: The good news is that candor, credibility, and cool heads can keep the bad news from getting worse" (crisis planning, media relations). Lindy Keane Carter, November/December 1987, p. 14.
- "Different League, Same Game: How an independent school attracts national media attention" (media relations, national media). Kim Robert Nilsen, February 1987, p. 42.
- "Don't Go Changing: Constituents may love you just the way you are" (graphic identity, institutional image). Douglas J. Geddie, June 1987, p. 34.
- "Get the Word Out: The University of Wisconsin-Madison lets the news speak for itself" (media relations, national media). Robin Goldman, February 1987, p. 30.
- "Go to the Head of the Class: Institutional relations officers can learn a lot from their professors" (internal communication). Linda J. Lagle, September 1987, p. 24.
- "Keeping Your Cool: Here's how to stay in control under the hot lights" (crisis planning, media relations). Kay Miller and Michael J. Baxter, November/December 1987, p. 22.
- "Kill That Release: Most news releases deserve—and usually get—an unmerciful death" (media relations). Don Hale, May 1987, p. 48.
- "Know the Media: A Texas medical school's PR team proves that it helps to know what makes the media tick" (media relations, national media). Nancy Raley, February 1987, p. 36.
- "Learning the Legalities: Prepare yourself and your lawyers to handle campus crises" (crisis planning, legal issues). Victoria Stuart, November/December 1987, p. 26.
- "Mark Your Calendar: A logo's coming-out party" (graphic identity, institutional image). Joanne L. Matika, July/August 1987, p. 21.
- "Marks of Distinction: Four profiles in graphic identity" (graphic identity, institutional image). July/August 1987, p. 14.
- "Matters of State: Missouri's colleges and universities campaign together for funds, students—and cooperation" (government relations support, media relations, public/private relationships). Robin Goldman, April 1987, p. 6.
- "The News Release Lives: For some purposes and some institutions, the news release has a right to life" (media relations). Dale G. Allison, May 1987, p. 50.

SAULS

ART DEPARTMENT —

Complete service from layout and design to finished art. Typographic service available.

CAMERA AND STRIPPING —

High quality halftones, accurate stripping and fine platemaking are standard procedures.

PRESSES —

Multi-color sheet fed, quality web and perfecting presses in a variety of sizes to fit your job.

BINDERY —

In-House bindery to speed production of magazines, brochures and flyers. Trade binderies available to handle other types of finishing.

Printers of C.A.S.E. Currents continuously since 1980

Sauls Lithograph Company, Inc.
2424 Evarts Street, Northeast
Washington, D.C. 20018 529-9100

- "Of Logos and Letterheads: How to communicate your campus's personality at a glance" (graphic identity, institutional image). Robert J. Rytter, July/August 1987, p. 18.
- "Planning for Change: Sailing smoothly through name changes, mergers, and other campus changes" (change). Helen Watkins Norman, June 1987, p. 32.
- "Take the Initiative: Carnegie Mellon's proactive program makes national coverage its top priority" (media relations, national media). Robin Goldman, February 1987, p. 46.
- "Target Your Media Marketing: Why Wittenberg's Don Perkins stays on the phone and on the road" (media relations, national media). Mary Wade Atteberry, February 1987, p. 40.
- "Tell the Story Straight: By covering rather than covering up, Stanford gets the national media to come to it" (media relations, national media). Karla Taylor, February 1987, p. 24.
- "Truth or Consequences: When the truth hurts, PR people face a painful ethical dilemma" (ethics, media relations). Arthur V. Ciervo, January 1987, p. 20.
- "Weeding Out Bias: How to spot—and eliminate—insensitive language" (sexism: how to avoid, racism: how to avoid). Maril R. Stratton, July/August 1987, p. 46.
- "What Leads to Yes: Applying the psychology of influence to fund raising, alumni relations, and PR" (motivation). Robert B. Cialdini, January 1987, p. 48.
- "The Winning Presentation: How to get your ideas across to the people who count the most" (speech writing/making). Paul LeRoux, September 1987, p. 38.

Management

- "Cleaning Up College Sports: It's up to college leaders to put sports in their proper place" (educational issues, ethics). L. Jay Oliva, March 1987, p. 72.
- "Come into My Parlor: If a vendor is trying to lure you into a sweet deal, look for signs of a sticky situation" (ethics). Judy Myers, January 1987, p. 32.
- "Discipline Without Pain: Dealing with that difficult employee" (staff management). Kathleen Rakestraw, July/August 1987, p. 28.
- "Flight Records: A CURRENTS study confirms advancement's reputation for high turnover" (staffing, turnover, development officers). Edward G. Thomas, October 1987, p. 6.
- "Focus on Your Audience: How focus group research can help you zero in on what prospective students and donors really think" (market research, evaluation). Susan Bonnett, May 1987, p. 32.
- "Life at the Top: It's a heap of trouble" (presidents). Stephen Joel Trachtenberg, February 1987, p. 80.
- "A Long, Hard Look: An intensive self-study of your institution can reveal whether you're giving constituents what they want and need" (management: institutional relations). Philip C. Chamberlain, April 1987, p. 54.
- "The Mating Dance: How to court—and keep—the perfect fund raiser" (staffing, development officers). Melinda J. Burdette, October 1987, p. 12.
- "A Model of Cooperation: A survey of presidents and chief advancement officers shows four types of relationships" (presidents, research, president's role in fund raising, development officers). H. Martin Moore, July/August 1987, p. 40.
- "Modern Mentors: Instead of searching for one long-term counselor, find several throughout your career" (mentors, career - development). Elizabeth M. Martin, June 1987, p. 46.

- "The Secret Is Out: Show your development colleagues how planned giving can help their programs—and the institution" (planned giving, training). Deborah H. Blackmore and John S. Foster, June 1987, p. 22.
- "Share and Share Alike: Stretch your staff and budget by recycling what you write" (productivity, writing). Mike Norris, November/December 1987, p. 55.
- "Speaking of Ethics: To resolve ethical dilemmas, you must learn to ask the right questions at the right time" (ethics). James A. Donahue, January 1987, p. 88.
- "Take My Boss—Please! How to manage a troublesome manager" (staff management). Gail R. Sjo, July/August 1987, p. 32.
- "Tales from the Trenches: Managers tell how they handled troublesome staff members" (staff management). July/August 1987, p. 24.
- "Test Your Ethics" (ethics). January 1987, p. 9.
- "Tinkerer, Trainer, Molder, Spy" (mentors, career development). Arthur V. Ciervo, June 1987, p. 52.
- "Turnover's Fair Play: Handled well, job changing can keep your office competitive" (turnover). Scott G. Nichols, October 1987, p. 80.
- "Why I've Stayed: Seven CASE professionals tell what's convinced them to stay in their jobs for a total of 171 years" (turnover, motivation). October 1987, p. 18.

Periodicals

- "The Best Medicine: Faculty authors can pump new life into your campus periodical" (faculty involvement). Thomas M. Flagg, September 1987, p. 28.
- "Beyond Control: The notion of editorial independence is a snare and a delusion, in the institutional press and elsewhere" (editorial independence). Bernard R. Carman, March 1987, p. 26.
- "A Fresh Bill of Fare: Editors share their best solutions for beating the what-to-fix-for-deadline blues" (content). Linda Keith, June 1987, p. 42.
- "Making A Statement: Why you should—or shouldn't—write statements of editorial mission, goals, and policy" (editorial policy). Robert J. Bliwice, March 1987, p. 16.
- "Paradise Lost: The soul of a magazine is its content—and all too many are losing theirs" (content, design). David Fyten, July/August 1987, p. 72.
- "To Print Or Not to Print? Six editors tell about their toughest editorial choices—and the consequences" (editorial independence, content). March 1987, p. 6.
- "When Borrowing Becomes Burglary: Recognizing—and fighting—plagiarism" (ethics). John Shea, January 1987, p. 38.
- "Who's In Charge Here? Getting the authority you need to edit an effective alumni periodical" (editorial independence, content). Marshall Ledger, March 1987, p. 10.

Publications

- "Another (Yawn) Revolution: Desktop systems might take publishing right out of the experts' hands" (desktop publishing, publications production). William McDonald, February 1987, p. 18.
- "Come into My Parlor: If a vendor is trying to lure you into a sweet deal, look for signs of a sticky situation" (ethics). Judy Myers, January 1987, p. 32.
- "Don't Go Changing: Constituents may love you just the way you are" (graphic identity, institutional image). Douglas J. Geddie, June 1987, p. 34.

- "Let's Get Acquainted: These student recruitment brochures make a good first impression" (recruitment communications, direct mail). Thomas Vitale, May 1987, p. 14.
- "Mark Your Calendar: A logo's coming-out party" (graphic identity, institutional image). Joanne L. Matika, July/August 1987, p. 21.
- "Marks of Distinction: Four profiles in graphic identity" (graphic identity, institutional image). July/August 1987, p. 14.
- "Of Logos and Letterheads: How to communicate your campus's personality at a glance" (graphic identity, institutional image). Robert J. Rytter, July/August 1987, p. 18.
- "Painting the Wrong Picture: To recruit students and raise money, some institutions are presenting increasingly distorted pictures of themselves" (ethics). Roland King, January 1987, p. 26.
- "The Revolution's on Your Desk: Desktop systems bring publications from cold type to no type" (desktop publishing, publications production). Bruce Erickson, February 1987, p. 14.
- "Share and Share Alike: Stretch your staff and budget by recycling what you write" (productivity, writing). Mike Norris, November/December 1987, p. 55.
- "Weeding Out Bias: How to spot—and eliminate—insensitive language" (sexism: how to avoid, racism: how to avoid). Maril R. Stratton, July/August 1987, p. 46.

Student Recruitment

- "Balance Without Bias: Before your institution can decide how to recruit minorities, it must know why it wants them" (minority students). Judy Myers, April 1987, p. 34.
- "The Faculty Strategy: Campus teamwork can make your marketing plan a winner" (faculty involvement, marketing). Shirley Hershey Showalter, September 1987, p. 34.
- "Focus on Your Audience: How focus group research can help you zero in on what prospective students and donors really think" (market research, evaluation). Susan Bonnett, May 1987, p. 32.
- "Get Their Attention: Recruitment strategies that win minority students" (minority students). Anne Johnson Moultrie, April 1987, p. 44.
- "How Students Choose a College: Prestige, parents, and large color photos may be more influential than you think" (undergraduates). Robert Sevier, November/December 1987, p. 46.
- "Let's Get Acquainted: These student recruitment brochures make a good first impression" (recruitment communications, direct mail). Thomas Vitale, May 1987, p. 14.
- "Painting the Wrong Picture: To recruit students and raise money, some institutions are presenting increasingly distorted pictures of themselves" (ethics). Roland King, January 1987, p. 26.
- "Playing the Numbers: The role of search in admissions" (recruitment communications, direct mail). Ronald J. Ingersoll, May 1987, p. 23.
- "A Proper Introduction: Introduce your institution with a search piece that gets results" (recruitment communications, direct mail). Cynthia K. Moran, May 1987, p. 18.
- "Recruit with Research: Turn your admissions data into publications with pull" (recruitment communications, direct mail). Don F. Stout and Maggi Channell, May 1987, p. 28.
- "Whetting Student Appetites: A baker's dozen tips for effective search mailings" (recruitment communications, direct mail). M. Fredric Volkmann, May 1987, p. 26. CASE